At the TRIZ for X 2018 conference in Pune, India I will chair a special section dedicated to cases presenting the use of TRIZ in business and management.

NEW VIDEOS

Video: Introduction to Root Conflict Analysis (RCA+)

By Valeri Souchkov

One-hour detailed video introduction to the latest update of Root Conflict Analysis (RCA+) technique. RCA+ is a tool designed to analyze innovative problems, extract causes and conflicts which create barriers to find solutions desired. Video presents the approach and illustrates its use by examples in both engineering and technology.

COMPLETE LIST OF TRIZ BOOKS PUBLISHED IN ENGLISH

Full Bibliography of TRIZ Books Published in English

TRIZ users and students often ask about a full bibliography of TRIZ books published in English. Unfortunately, the lists of titles available online are either outdated or a bit too far from being complete. So we made an attempt to create and maintain such a complete bibliography. Currently, the list includes 84 book titles and 21 conference proceedings.

Link to the list: http://www.xtriz.com/publications/trizbooksenglish.htm

In case you notice that some book title is missing, please let us know by mailing to info@xtriz.com

BIBLIOGRAPHY UPDATE

Bibliography of TRIZ Related Publications by Valeri Souchkov

Last summer I posted a list of references to my selected publications related to TRIZ and Systematic Innovation, mostly in journals and conference proceedings. It also provides open access to publications if there is no copyrights infringement. This year more links to the texts of the papers were added.

The bibliography is available at: www.xtriz.com/publications

NEW PAPERS FROM US

The Law of Supersystem Development
by Valeri Souchkov

The paper introduces the Law of Supersystem Completeness and explains reasons of why it was proposed. This law belongs to the category of Laws of Static originally developed by the founder of TRIZ G. Altshuller. Main purpose of introducing the law is to provide formal background for further development of criteria which would help to identify potential mismatch between a technical system and its supersystem due to unavailability or immaturity of supersystem components which are required to ensure not only successful operation of a technical system and proper execution of its functions but its success on the market as well.

Online TRIZ Training: Experience with Development and Delivery
By Valeri Souchkov

The paper presents an overview of distant online TRIZ training introduced by the author in 2012, and summarizes experience and results based on training students with different backgrounds who represent various customer segments: from university students to top managers of large industrial companies. The paper presents some statistical data related to the courses taken, geography of students, and students occupations. Finally, the advantages and disadvantages of online TRIZ training are discussed.

NEW BOOKS IN ENGLISH

Trends of Engineering Systems Evolution: TRIZ Paths to Innovation
Alex Lyubomirskiy, Simon Litvin, Sergei Ikovenko, Christian Thurnes, Robert Adunka
While there are hundreds of English-language books on TRIZ available today, it has always been a problem to find a book dedicated to a specific TRIZ subject or a tool. Specifically when it concerns another biggest area of the TRIZ studies in addition to extracting, formulating and solving specific inventive problems - the trends of innovative technical (engineering) systems development - often called the "Trends of Engineering Systems Evolution" (TESE).

Although some very good books on the subject are available, they are still in Russian. Finally, a group of authors have introduced such a book in English: "Trends of Engineering Systems Evolution: TRIZ Paths to Innovation". No doubt, the book could be of interest to not only TRIZ specialists but to any engineer and professional who is willing to understand why products and technologies evolve not randomly, but systematically, and capture this knowledge to invent future products and technologies.

The book complies with the Knowledge Standards requirements of MATRIZ for Level 3 certification, thus the book can serve as a valuable study reference if one is willing to be update his or her MATRIZ certification degree.

Business Matrix 3.0
Darrell Mann
Business Matrix 3.0 is the latest version of famous TRIZ Contradiction Matrix originally developed by Genrich Altshuller but later adapted to solving business and management contradictions. This new version of the matrix includes 45 business features (parameters). The book presents descriptions and illustrations for each principle.

Universal Inventive Principles TRIZ: Inventive Principles for All Fields
Vladimir Petrov
Amazon Digital Services LLC, 2018. 226 p. ASIN: B07CRRY99N
The author undertook attempt to make 40 Inventive Principles more universal. He claims that they may be used in fields such as IT and in any other areas. A general rule for changing principle titles and sub-principle formulations was adopted: the principles must perform the same functions as original principles formulated by Altshuller.

At this moment the book is only available in digital Kindle format.

Lean TRIZ: How to Dramatically Reduce Product-Development Costs with This Innovative Problem-Solving Tool

H. James Harrington

The author offers "Lean TRIZ": a new workshop-based process that brings together teams to focus on specific processes, evolutionary product designs, and improvement opportunities. It combines the insight of TRIZ with the simplicity of Value Engineering, EXPRESS, or FAST methodologies.
